March - Trifold
Non-Fiction-Informational

Definition:

Literature that teaches you about something that is real or how to do something.

Directions:

In Heritage Studies, we have been learning about the fifty states. Now it's your turn to explore one more closely!

1. Choose a state you would like to learn more about.
2. Find a book about that state. Your book must be at least 25 pages long.
3. Bring your book to school so your teacher can approve it.
4. Read your book carefully.
5. Complete the tri-fold report page your teacher has given you.
6. Be sure to decorate and color your tri-fold neatly and creatively.
7. Write your report in cursive handwriting.

Have fun learning about your state and be creative with your project!
